OCEANIC LINER VENTURA ARRIVES

Had Most Delightful Voyage--Captain's Good Qualities Sung By Lady Passenger--Inter-Island Steamer Movements

(By Miss A. Rowe.)

"Who is it calls our ship so true
Across the sea of heavenly blue,
Ne'er swerving from the course that's due?"

Our Captain.

His maiden voyage is this we grace
Advanced to a commander's place,
An added smile on his kind face--
The Captain.

The good Ventura, fresh and trim,
Secure and staunch from stem to stern,
A willing servant is to him--
Her Captain.

A bachelor he, the ladies' choice,
Gentle of manner, soft of voice,
Whose kindness makes us all rejoice--
Our Captain.

A copy of the above bit of verse was put at Captain Cowell's place at table on the Oceanic liner Ventura this morning as a tribute from the one hundred and thirty-six passengers who made up the passenger list on the maiden voyage of the remodeled liner.

They were a joyous bunch and according to Purser William Reid, life on board during the trip was one continuous round of pleasure. The weather was fine all the way and the liner rode like a yacht. There was an abundance of musical and dramatic talent on board which was combined into a program of all-stars at a concert held Wednesday evening.

The following was the program rendered:
Victrola selection--By Courtesy of Mr. J. O. Luttet.
Solo--Heaven Will Protect the Working Girl. Miss Avis Sterling.
Recitation--Moo Cow Moo. Miss Laura Fahrbach.
Solo--Indian Love Lyrics. Mr. W. O. Phillips.
Duet--My Gal Sal. Mr. and Mrs. F. Carberry.
Violin virtuoso, (selected) -- Mr. John Marquardt.
Solo--Mio Carino. Mr. A. Bozzi.
Recitation--Gunga Din. Mr. Richard Klipping.
Song--I Trust My Husband Anywhere--but I Like to Stick Around. Miss Nielsen.
Monologue--Love and Man. Mr. Lew Wheeler.
Olivia Trio (selections)--Mr. Olivia, Miss Olivia and Mr. A. Bozzi.
Special feature by the committee.
Our song--Star Spangled Banner. Everybody.

Submarines, aeroplanes, steam-rollers and ambulance at 10:30 o'clock. The list of passengers was a conglomerate mixture of Honoluluans, tourists, theatrical people, and several government officials. There were C. G. Bartlett and Dick Sullivan, J. O. Luttet, H. A. Weinland, assistant superintendent of the State Insectary, Captains Forsyth and Foster and Lieutenant Phil Sheridan of the United States Army.

Richard Klipping, who is coming here to assume the duties connected with the position of manager of the Honolulu Amusement Company, was on board. With him were Mr. and Mrs. Carberry who have been booked to appear at a local theater in the near future.

Miss E. Siegfried is the daughter of a well-known San Francisco tea-buyer. In company with the Misses Derrham, Pocock, and Mitchell, she is making a trip to Japan and will stay over in Honolulu for several weeks.

Captain Cowell, to whom the poetical tribute was offered by one of the young women passengers, was formerly chief officer of the old Mariposa. "Billy" Reid, who has been well known as the purser of the Tenyo Maru, is in the same position on the Ventura. Owing to his ability of entertaining and getting the passengers to "mix," Mr. Reid's services have been sought by nearly every steamship company making entry to Frisco.

The chief steward of the Ventura, A. G. Conquest, is also an old Mariposa officer. Samuel Church is chief engineer and A. A. Sawyer occupies the first officer's berth.

The Ventura appeared off port at daylight this morning and at 6:30 was lying off the harbor while the government officials were doing their duties. The first-class mail was taken off by the government launch immediately and was at the postoffice by the time the steamer tied up at the Oceanic wharf at 8 a. m.

There was a large crowd on hand to welcome the Ventura and many were armed with rice to welcome "Dick" Sullivan, who, a wireless had alleged, was bringing a bride home but no bride was in tow when the proprietor of the Fashion appeared on the gangplank and the confusion was then made that the wireless was a hoax and had been sent by some passenger with an especially keen sense of humor.

The Ventura left San Francisco last Saturday morning, two hours before the Pacific Mail steamer Nile steamed away from Golden Gate bound for Honolulu and the Orient.

The Ventura managed to gain two hours in the entire trip, for it was after 11 o'clock when the British steamer tied up at Alakea wharf.

Nine departed Celestials are included in the seventy-five Asiatic steerage passengers in the Nile. In the second-cabin are fifteen passengers and in the first are fifty passengers.

As the Nile sails under the British flag she is not permitted to carry passengers between San Francisco and Honolulu and on this trip only a few are staying over until the next steamer.

Among the passengers are Ferdinand Goethe, a professor of Bremen College, who is touring the world, M. J. Tsonglinski and E. Timonoff, two Russian officials who are on their way to St. Petersburg, and Hugh A. Stewart, Robert B. Elder and Verno Frazer, three mining men, who are bound for Korea.

Captain Laprak, who is on the bridge of the Nile, is making his first trip as a captain on a Pacific Mail steamer although he has held master's papers for many years. Prior to his acceptance of the captaincy of the Nile, relieving Capt. F. G. P. Eccleston who has returned to the service of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company of England, Captain Laprak was chief officer of the Manchuria.

MAKES A FLASH PASSAGE.
S. F. Chronicle: Sailing from Honolulu to Philadelphia in 108 days, the ship Erskine M. Phelps, known in every seaport of the world as the White Flyer, and the fastest American calling vessel afloat, has added another record to her long string of laurels. The speedy, Yankee-built windjammer left the Hawaiian port February 16th and arrived at Delaware breakwater June 5th, carrying a full cargo of sugar. The Phelps was built at Bangor, Me., in 1898, and is the newest and fastest of American square-riggers. Kept up-to-date and in perfect trim at all times, she is always in shape to do her best sailing, and as a result has broken one sailing record after another since she was first commissioned. Probably her most notable voyage was from Norfolk to Honolulu in ninety-seven days.

Driftwood

When the Ventura returns to San Francisco she will inaugurate the new fast service schedule of the Oceanic company to Australia, alternating with the Sonoma.

As the Panama canal nears completion, there is a demand for new vessels and the shipbuilding companies along the Atlantic and Pacific coasts are swamped with orders. It is expected that several more shipbuilding companies will be organized to take care of the demand.

The steamer Claudine will sail for Maui and Hawaii ports this afternoon at five o'clock.

The W. G. Hall for Kauai ports was held over awaiting the arrival of the Ventura and will leave for the Garden Island this afternoon at five o'clock.

A ten-ton locomotive for Port Allen went last night by the steamer Like-like which left at five o'clock for Kauai ports with a large general freight cargo.

Owing to the difficulty of getting the passengers together this morning, the inspecting government physician was delayed nearly half an hour.
